STUDENTS FUELING OUR MISSION: MEET THE STUDENTS

Healthy Together Cleveland has partnered with Gardner-Webb University to allow four marketing students, under the direction of Mischia Taylor, Dean Godbold College of Business, Assistant Professor of Marketing, to help support the coalition's marketing and communication efforts. Please welcome Alaina Smith, Antonietta Policastro, Chance Sutton, and Raequan Ousley to Healthy Together Cleveland. These students will help with social media engagement, monthly newsletters, and website updates and analytics. These projects will serve as part of their Practical Project Experience coursework. Alaina is a senior majoring in Marketing with a minor in Healthcare Management. Antonietta is a senior majoring in Marketing and Healthcare Management. Chance is a senior majoring in Marketing and Finance. Raequan is a senior majoring in Management.

YOUR VOICE MATTERS

The 2023 Cleveland County Community Health Assessment kicked-off on September 1 and is available through September 30. This survey will help identify current and emerging health issues in Cleveland County.

Everyone is encouraged to complete the survey. Survey responses are confidential and survey results will be compiled into a document set for publication in early 2024. The survey can be completed electronically through the following link, 2023 Cleveland Community Assessment.

Find the survey in Spanish at the health department or online here.

Individuals who complete a survey are eligible to enter a drawing for incentive prizes which include a $750 Amazon gift card, two $500 Amazon gift cards, and four $250 Amazon gift cards. Winners will be chosen using a computer-generated random number computer program and will be notified on or about November 15, 2023. For questions regarding the survey, please contact Anne Short at Anne.short@clevelandcountync.gov.
